

In doing a remodel of an older home; we needed to insulate our outside walls and with a little research found spray foam of Maine to be a better, highly efficient alternative to regular insulation. Our expectations were high but in the end were exceeded by the professionalism of all team members and the excellence of the job they did. The original visit with the estimator was very informative which makes you feel very comfortable with your decision and the men who performed the work did an outstanding job. Every nook, crevice and space that air could penetrate was completely filled in and there wasn't one spec of debris when they left. We could not be happier with our choice and would highly recommend this to any one considering it. The pricing is straight forward and a great value with no surprises at the end.

Thank you to Spray Foam of Maine
